Margeigh just signed on. She has easy access to recent meetups via the whiteboards - clicking on one brings up downloadable objects for that meeting.
She's going to schedule another meetup now. Chat happens along the bottom edge.

6 B

She has invited 12 people directly via FB, their "spots" show up as she invites them. Meeting spots could fade off, gradually, giving people a chance to show up and then regrouping/reformatting whenever they don't. Chat line prompts for entry of the meeting name. Chat animates left as new messages are added.
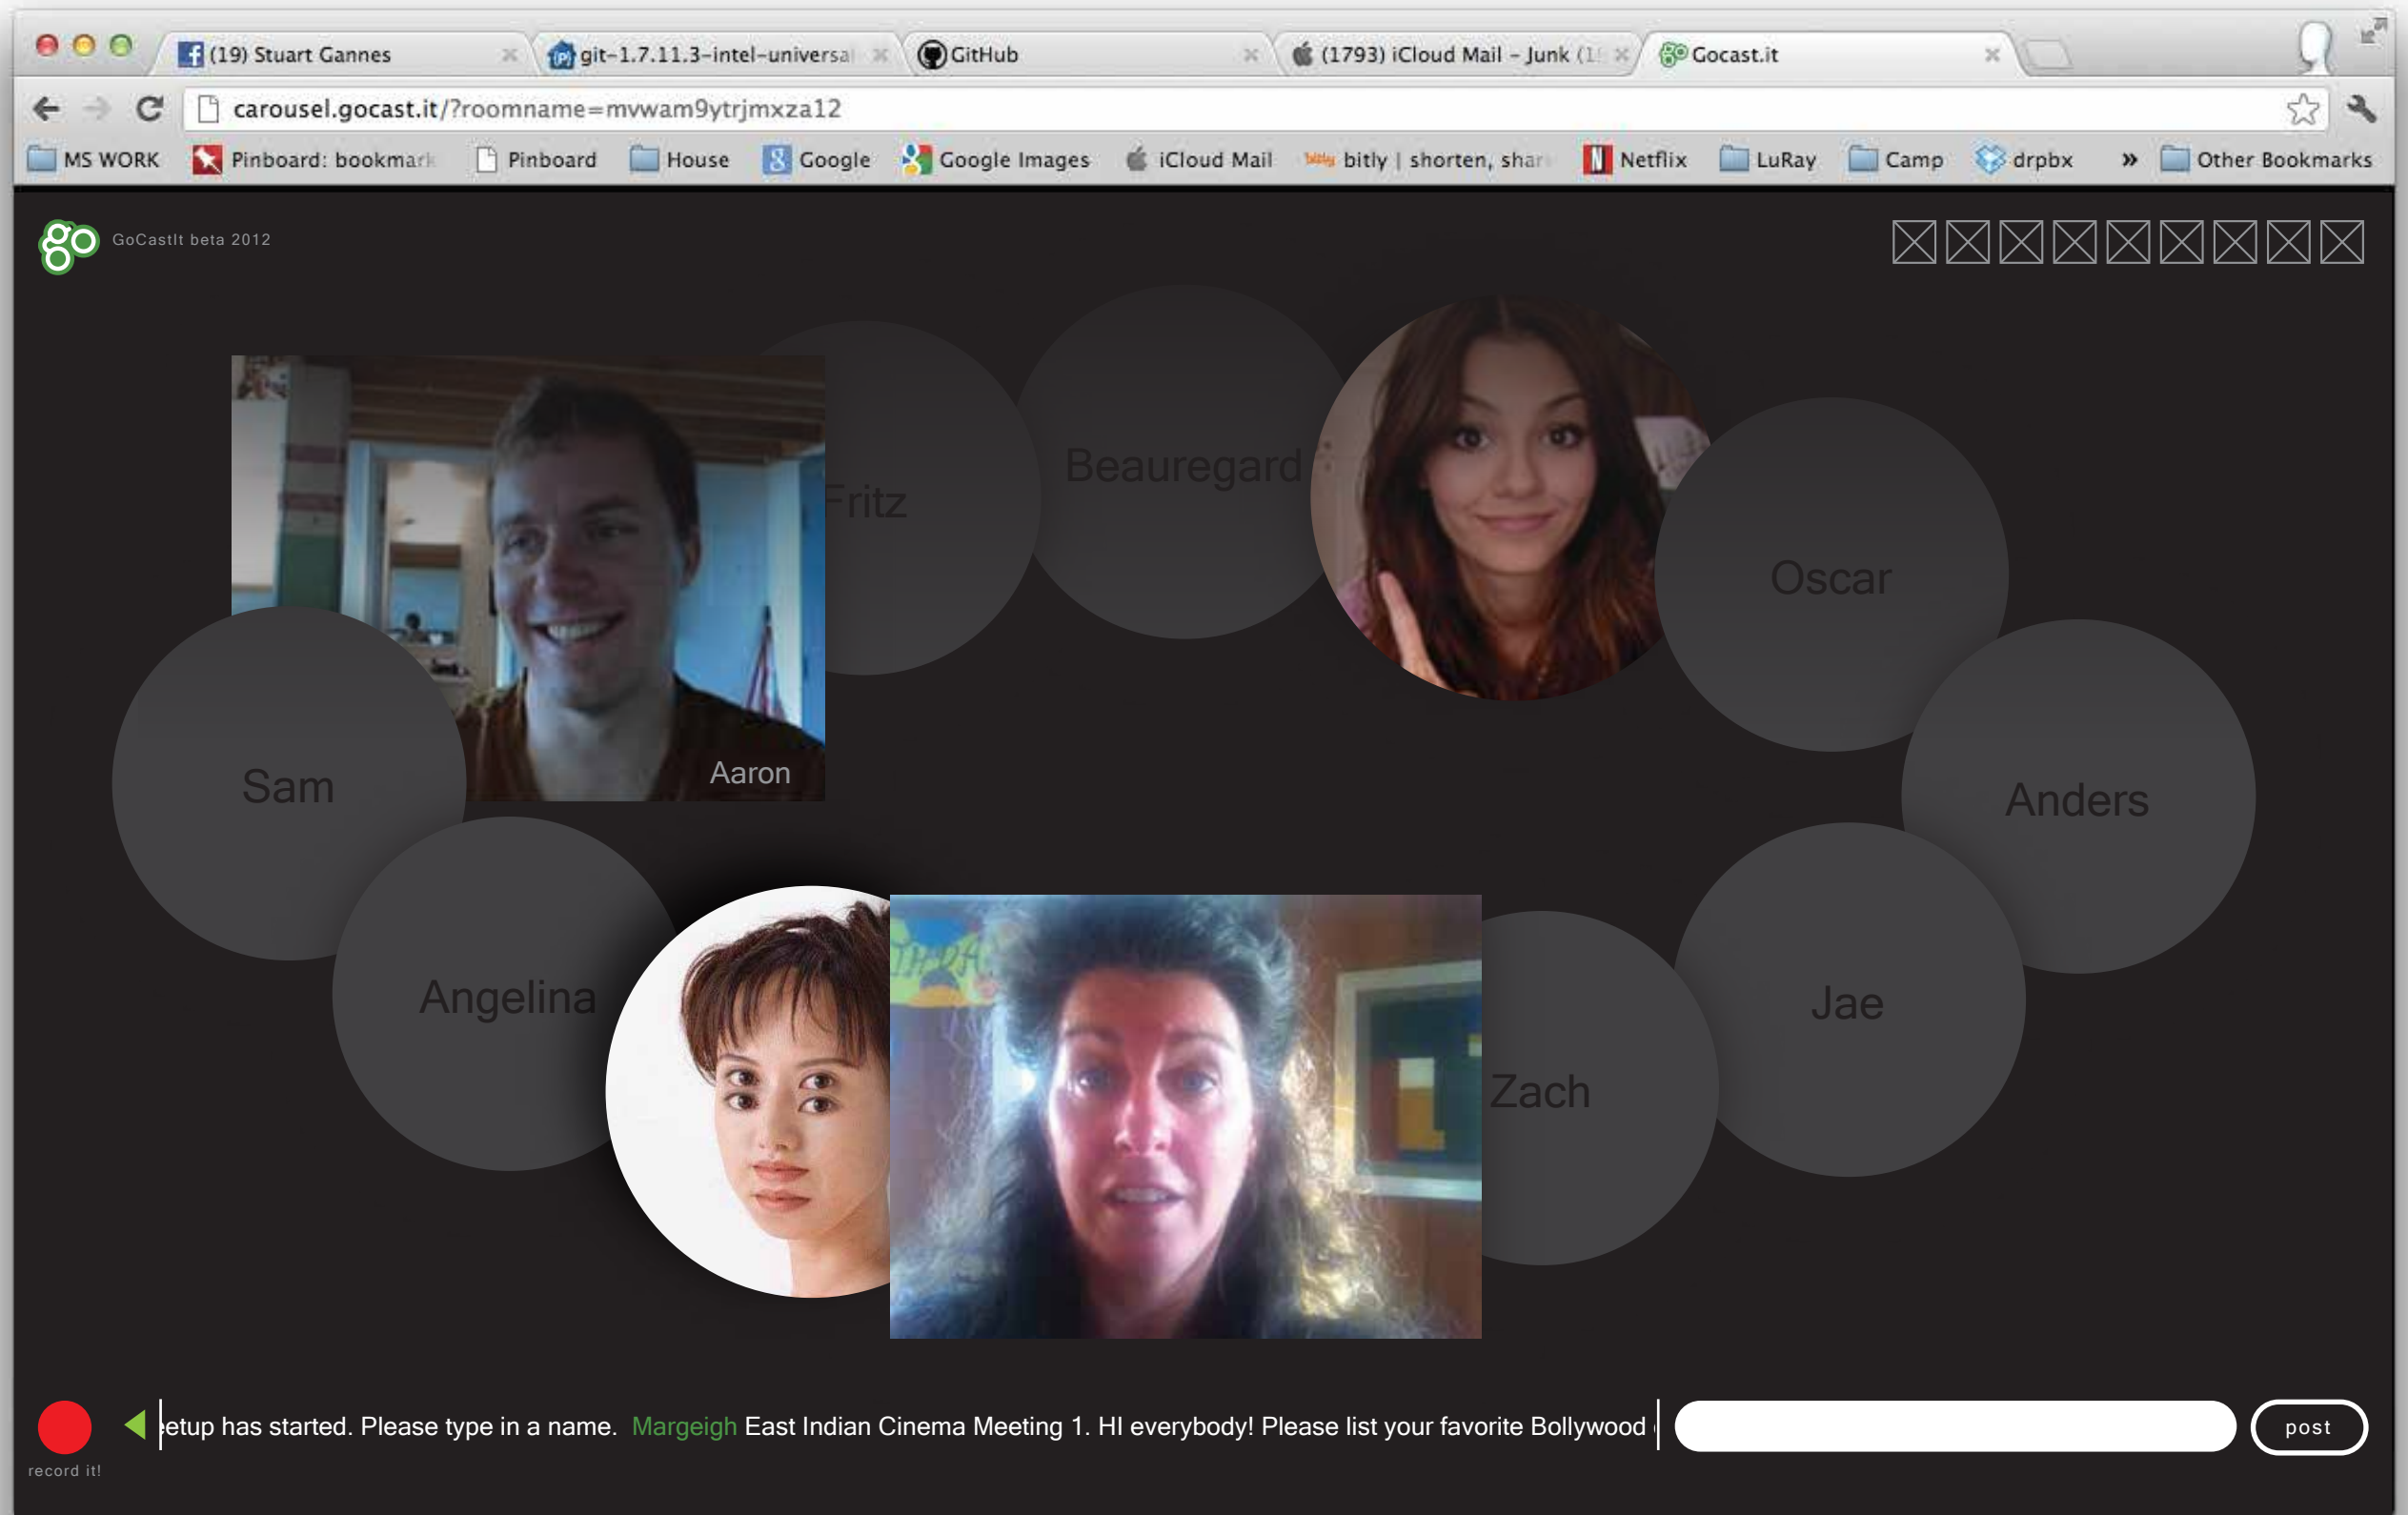

6 People are starting to show up. Some have turned their video on. When the chat line reaches the left edge of the screen, controls appear to enable users to navigate to an earlier part of the conversation.

Margeigh just signed on. She has easy access to recent meetups, and can see which have been recorded and which havent. The chat panel is open and all tools visible at the top of the screen. She can close the chat panel so that the entire carousel is visible (it slides left). She's going to schedule another meetup now.
